Generally Supposed Government Intends Present
Bill as Basis for Future
Negotiations.

London, December 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Irish home rule bill now is safe and will be placed on the statute book this week in a form only slightly amended from the shape in which it first left the house of commons. The house of lords today, after a brief debate, agreed to all the amendments made to the bill by the commons.

The only amendment discussed by the lords today was that adopted by the lower house providing that if either area in Ireland refused to set up a parliament the executive could not make the offer a second time unless within three years after June 1, next, both houses of the British parliament adopted a resolution asking for it. Earl Middleton objected to this time limit of three and one-half years and challenged a division on the question. He was defeated decisively by a vote of 14, whereupon this and the other commons' amendments were agreed to without further discussion.

Back to Commons.

Owing to a slight modification made in the house of lords today at the suggestion of Lord Birkenhead, the lord chancellor, the bill again will have to be submitted to the house of commons as a formality, and it probably will be tomorrow before the royal sanction is given.

One of the principal changes in the bill made by the lords is that senators will be created for both the northern and southern parliaments. As proposed by the government, the question of the method of establishing the senators was to be left for the decision of the Irish parliament.

Formation of Council.

Another modification secured by the lords is that instead of the council of Ireland being nominated by the two parliaments, each senate will appoint seven of its members and each parliament thirteen, making a total of forty, while instead of the president of the council being the lord chancellor of Ireland, as proposed by the government, he will be nominated by the lord lieutenant on the advice of the crown.

The lords also defeated the proposal that the Irish parliaments should have the power to levy a surtax.

It is generally supposed that the government regards the bill as the basis for future negotiations, and with this future has purposely reserved the questions of customs and excise from the bill.

PITCHED BATTLE

RAGES FOR HOURS.

Dublin, December 20.—(United News.)—The bloodiest pitched battle yet recorded between crown forces and members of the Irish republican army took place Monday in the hills of Millinahone, County Tipperary, when ten Sinn Feiners were killed.

Senate Concurs in House Amendment Eliminating Advice to Federal Reserve Board.

PREDICTIONS DIFFER
ON WILSON'S ACTION

Leaders Confident They Can Override Veto in Both Houses, However. No Record Vote Taken in Senate.

Washington, December 20.—Legislative enactments of the joint resolution directing revival of the war finance corporation as a measure of relief for farmers against failing prices, was completed today when the senate, without a record vote, concurred in house amendments eliminating the section suggesting that the federal reserve board extend liberal credits to farmers. The resolution now goes to the president.

Senators and representatives were divided today in their opinion as to a possible veto. Some believed the president would veto the measure while others were inclined to the belief that with the elimination of advice to the federal reserve board, approval of the executive would be given the measure.

Leaders who were responsible for the final enactment of the resolution, however, expressed confidence of their ability to override a veto both in the senate and house. They were assured, they said, of votes from southern members to such a contingency.

Criticism Reserve Board.

Senator Smith, of South Carolina, criticised the federal reserve board for what he said was the "too rapid policy of deflation."

In the house, Representative Stevenson, democrat of South Carolina, introduced a resolution directing the alien property custodian to transfer to the credit of the war finance corporation funds in his hands for the disbursement of bills for products of the United States exported to Germany or Austria.

"If it fails it will fall because of lack of proper men in charge," Senator Smith, democrat, Georgia, declared of the war finance corporation. He said the federal reserve board helped to "kick" the prices of farm products downward and that everything emanating from the board and the treasury had been "hostile" to credits on staple farm products.

Charlottesville, Virginia—The Georgia senator criticised what he said was the board's ruling.

Charity Stimulus Needed
In Xmas Opportunities

Atlanta's not listening! Her big heart is in the right place, but she's letting the hum and whir of things that touch her more pleasantly drown out the still, small voice that asks her aid to the ten neediest families within her bounds—the ten Christmas "opportunities"—chances for warm-hearted souls to make a continuous holiday for the next twelve months in lives which have not known the joy of many holidays. These lives will be drab and sordid for time to come if we don't listen to their patient, silent plea; these ten families the Associated Charities feels must have help, help Atlanta can easily give.

In all, $2,800 is needed; $525.50 has been given; four more days and Christmas is here!

Only one opportunity of the ten has been closed out. It was closed single-handed by H. E. Wilson, who gave the entire $14 which Opportunity No. 2 demanded. John A. Mangat set a great example of generosity for Atlantans to follow.

Monday afternoon when he wrote a check for $300, to be applied as the officials of the Associated Charities saw fit. They have applied it to Opportunity No. 1, which needs $720 in all.

Hatcher Opposes Changes.

Almoner Hatcher, who surrendered his gavel to make a speech against any change in the ordinance as it stands. He reviewed the public hearing held by the ordinance committee. Dr. H. C. Nuttall, chairman, in which he said the fact was revealed that principally those who wanted the ordinance modified were those who have something to sell and those who have something to buy. He declared that on the other hand representatives of the street car men, messengers and porters, the patrons, approximately 90 per cent of the riding public, were highly pleased with the ordinance forbidding.

Councilman C. T. Bailey and others spoke against the amendment.

Needs of Opportunities.

No. 1 has the largest apportionment so far of them all, with $720 many whole-hearted Atlantans have responded to the calls for the others, but much remains to be done. The responses and needs of each opportunity follow:

No. 1—William Rawling, $50; Mrs. A. Manget, $20; Mrs. Vaughan Nixon, $10; Alice M. King, $5; Mrs. E. R. Black, $5. Needed in all, $720; lacking, $450.

No. 2—Nothing received; $24 is needed.

No. 3—William Rawling, $50; Mrs. A. Manget, $20; Mrs. A. O. Martin, $1. Needed in all, $240; lacking, $24.

No. 4—W. F. Jennings, $24; R. C. Akin, $1; F. L. Stephenson, $1; Mrs.

Right. The court proceedings were brought in the name of L. N. Davis, of Lafayette, Ind., and W. R. Manning, of Dallas, Texas, both of whom dropped large sums of money to the gamblers here the past year.

The link of evidence forging together Woodward, Smith and Ellis as co-workers in the swindling game was unearthed by the solicitor in the safety deposit vault of the Smiths in the form of a civil release.

N.Y. Crime Wave Runs Roughshod Over the Police

Gunned Add Another Murder to Their String, While Numerous Minor Robberies Are Reported.

New York, December 20.—"Raids by police fail to stop crime wave." Thus read headlines in New York newspapers tonight, after what was described as the first day of "the most sweeping roundup of crooks in the history of New York."

"The undersigned, John M. Luker, Crenshaw county, Alabama, claims to have been defrauded or faked out of the sum of $2,500 in a room or rooms at the Exchange hotel, or the room of someone else, on or about the 23rd day of January, 1918, in an alleged horse race scheme, or by means of an alleged gambling scheme, and also claiming that Clyde Smith, Ed O. Miles, Floyd T. Woodward, a man known and called by some in the neighborhood as 'Chicago Red' and his wife, and others whose names the undersigned does not know, were defrauded by him of some of the parties whom he claims so defrauded him; these being the names of all the persons that he has been defrauded of, according to his statement, and the undersigned by himself and through the Bodenker National Detective Agency, the authorized agent of the undersigned, have claimed and charged that all the above named persons were co-conspirators, or had been associated with, and the undersigned has attempted to intercede with the governor of Alabama to have the parole of Ed O. Miles revoked on the ground that he had defrauded women and children.

After the killing, Woodward went to Toledo, where he operated with "Red" and his wife, and the wife of Miles was ushered up, he returned to Atlanta, leased the Sans Souci hotel, 59-12 Cone street, and organized his own gang with Smith and Ellis as his high-hand men.

Gleason's Escape.

It was at the Sans Souci hotel, where he was registered, that "Kit" Gleason effected his escape from detectives following the robbery of Chamberlin-Johnson-Dubose's store in which he is described as the store led to the Sans Souci, and here, according to evidence before the solicitor, Gleason made a most spectacular get-away after he had dined with his wife. He had never been apprehended.

It was at the Sans Souci hotel that "Jackknife" O'Brien and fifty-nine others were "registered" when the solicitor made a raid which cleaned the town. According to stories related in the underworld, which have been proven true by the solicitor, immediately after the raid began "Jackknife" O'Brien thought it wise to leave Atlanta. A train would be unsafe, and as he had a car here, he jumped into it and made a record run to Savannah. He was soon back on the way, and when he got to Savannah he went to a hospital, where he was operated on for appendicitis. From this he never left, and the solicitor has a letter from the chief of police of Toledo stating that L. V. O'Brien was buried in that city of December 12.

But there is another story to the effect that "Jackknife" whose alleged exploits of cleverness amuse crooks and keep police in suspense, got out of the hospital and sent his pauper bag and sent it back home to his mother to bury. So the question of O'Brien's death is still in the air.

For Mrs. Clyde Smith, the papers now that she obtained a divorce from C. E. McElroy on December 13, 1906. The safety box did not contain the marriage license.

It was also learned in the solicitor's office that when the alleged gang of sixty crooks registered at the Sans Souci, it was the same process as delegated to a convention of starting a bank. They had to register to have Woodward's protection while in the city.

The Mr. Sterling referred to in the civil trial of Luker has been identified as "Red" Sterling, widely known "con" man, whose picture according to the solicitor, is in the look-out books of the Atlanta police department.

The operation of this gang goes back several years. One of the interesting telegrams addressed to Smith at Montgomery, Ala., is one signed "Little Henry" and sent from San Francisco in 1910. It reads as follows:

"Let me hear from you at once. In serious trouble, address here generally. Hiki causes it all. Your world coming to an end. Believe you are friend still; wish to write there: hope I can work at fair. Did you get postals? Write me, old pal."

The grand jury will resume its probe into the gambling this morning at 10 o'clock.

Refused to Sign Waiver.

Mrs. Lucile Emma Brooks, who is under arrest, with John Cavanaugh and Nicholas Lorsch, in connection with the shooting of Police Lieutenant Floyd Horton in a running fight with gangsters after a hold-up last week, today appeared before a grand jury.

Before testifying, she was said to have declined to sign a waiver of immunity. According to attaches of the criminal court building, this prevents prosecution of her in the present case. It was reported she had signed a statement, but its contents were not made public.

Mrs. Brooks was one of eight witnesses summoned by Assistant District Attorney Dillen, who appeared before the legal body as fast for first degree murder indictments in the Horton case. Examination of witnesses will continue tomorrow.

John Walter Brooks, a Chicago insurance man, who hastened here to his wife's assistance, accompanied her into the criminal court building.

In receiving newspaper men he reiterated his confidence in Mrs. Brooks' innocence. He said she was 35 years old and a native of Russia.

Nine Crimes of Violence.

But in spite of the round-up, there has been little abatement in the series of violent crimes which make the front pages of the New York newspapers scare-reading.

In forty-eight hours, nine crimes of violence have been recorded. Three hold-ups have been staged; two hold-ups were attempted, one unsuccessfully, and many other minor offenses were registered by the police.

The home of Mrs. Cecil Sartoris, wife of a grandson of General U. S. Grant, was looted during the night, robbers carrying away about $5,000 worth of silverware, including eight 1,000 franc notes, part of the French restoration fund, of which Mrs. Sartoris is a vice president.

May Use Former Soldiers.

The five county chairmen of the American Legion met Monday with M. W. Galbreath, Jr., of Cincinnati, state commander of the legion, to formulate a scheme whereby the services of 35,000 former service men might be offered to the authorities to aid in hunting down gangsters. The March of Dimes Association and the Brooklyn Chamber of Commerce also held sessions to discuss protective measures.

Permits to carry weapons are being issued by available persons who can show any cause why they are entitled to carry firearms, and workers in positions of responsibility.

The question of Mr. Harding's early resignation from the senate was the subject of a conference between him and Senator-elect Frank B. Willis, whom Governor Cox has agreed to appoint to the vacancy. It was also learned that the president-elect took his delay as meaning that he probably would not retire until the new republican government of Ohio takes office early in January.

There was no evidence that anything definite regarding cabinet appointments developed between the president-elect and Mr. Dawes or Mr. Wallace.

Some of Mr. Harding's closest friends believe he still has an open mind about some of the cabinet selections. No definite offers of cabinet portfolios are expected to be made by him until he has canvassed the whole field thoroughly.

SOUNDS almost impossible, doesn't it? Yet speed and accuracy such as this are commonplace in offices equipped with the "Y and E" Direct Name Filing System.

To set a new standard for filing speed scores of tests were made in business offices where this system is used.

The average "filing or finding" time in the first 47 offices tested was less than ten seconds! Some of the clerks were green, some were experienced. It made little difference in the results.

Yeggmen Secure Loot of $13,000
In Department Store Robbery

The above is a photograph of the wrecked safe of the Keely company, local department store, which was blown open by expert cracksmen some time Sunday night or early Monday morning. The yeggmen secured loot amounting to approximately $13,000.

A loss aggregating between $12,000 and $13,000 was sustained by the Keely company Sunday night or early Monday morning, when yeggmen entered the store at the corner of Whitehall and Hunter streets, blew the safe and rifled the office and store. Up to a late hour Monday night officers were without any definite clues concerning the identity of the robbers.

Of the total loss officials of the company estimated that not more than $9,000 in money was secured, the additional loss being $1,000 in Liberty bonds and approximately $2,000 in furs and other wearing apparel.

The job has every appearance of being that of a professional. Police officials expressed the belief that it was committed by the same gang who burglarized the Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose company's store about ten months since.

They consider it entirely likely that the robbery took place sometime early Monday morning. Employees of the Keely company were at work in the store until a late hour Sunday afternoon. Thurston Hatcher, photographer with a studio window opening on the roof by which the cracksmen made their entrance, did not leave his place until after 11 o'clock.

The robbery was not discovered until between 7:30 and 8 o'clock Monday morning when the Keely office force reported for work to find the office a mass of debris, a safe broken, a vault forced, and all the money and securities and some handsome furs that were all accounted for late Saturday night missing.

On return the burglars had left a hammer, a chisel and a pair of cotton gloves. Some jewelry the private property of members of the firm was also taken, but by some strange oversight, a diamond collar and two diamond studded bracelets were left.

COAL ASSOCIATION
OFFICES SEARCHEDSenate Committee Directs
Raid in Probe of Alleged Profiteering.

Washington, December 20.—Records and correspondence of the National Coal Association, and during an examination of its offices here Saturday and Sunday, by Senate agents, will be produced tomorrow at a hearing before the Senate committee on agriculture, it was announced today by Senator Calder, Republican, of New York, chairman of the committee. J. D. A. Morrow, vice president of the association, will also be called as a witness.

The committee took the unusual step of ordering a search made of the association records after presenting a partial report to the Senate last week, denouncing the profiteering and disorganization of the distribution system had marked the conduct of the coal industry during the past year, and recommending the enactment of legislation for federal control.

"Representatives of the committee went to the association offices Saturday. Senator Calder stated today, "and produced for Mr. Morrow the subpoena authorizing an examination of the records and the production before the committee of such documents as it may desire."

Mr. Morrow said that the coal association had always held its records open for the assistance of the investigating committee, and that no objection to the search had been considered.

G. O. P. CONTESTANTS
ASLEEP AT SWITCHRepublicans in First and
Fifth Georgia Districts
Disregarded Law.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON, Washington, December 20.—No contests from the first and fifth districts in Georgia, as was announced by the republican candidate immediately following the November election. The federal law provides that a contest for a seat in congress must serve the contestants with a copy of his intentions to contest, and specifications within 10 days of the proclamation of the election result by the authorized officer. In Georgia the governor proclaims the result of the election boards and this proclamation of Governor Davis was dated November 17. Neither Congressman Overstreet nor Congressman Unshauver had been served, and as the time limit has expired the proposed contestants have either abandoned their original purposes, or have slept over their rights.

There are two contests from Georgia, however, in which the contestants have complied with the law. One is in the seventh district, Representative Gordon Lee, and the other is in the ninth, against Representative Thomas M. Bell.

The story of the seventh district contest has been fully covered in this dispatch.

The eighth district contest has been brought by Barnwell, of Norcross, who claims to have been the republican nominee, and who rests his hopes upon a charge that Bell's name appeared on republican ballots.

The contest will have no ground to stand upon, for there is no law in Georgia to prohibit democratic candidates' names appearing on a republican ballot.

At the matter of fact figures prove, the committee's figures prove, the regular election votes, that Congressman Bell received more republican votes in the district on November 17 than did Barnwell, although the latter carried four counties in the district by majorities totalling in the entire four counties something over eight hundred.

SOUNDS almost impossible, doesn't it? Yet speed and accuracy such as this is commonplace in offices equipped with the "Y and E" Direct Name Filing System.

To set a new standard for filing speed scores of tests were made in business offices where this system is used.

The average "filing or finding" time in the first 47 offices tested was less than ten seconds! Some of the clerks were green, some were experienced. It made little difference in the results.

Yeggmen Secure Loot of $13,000 In Department Store Robbery

The above is a photograph of the wrecked safe of the Keely company, local department store, which was blown open by expert cracksmen some time Sunday night or early Monday morning. The yeggmen secured loot amounting to approximately $13,000.

A loss aggregating between $12,000 and $13,000 was sustained by the Keely company Sunday night or early Monday morning, when yeggmen entered the store at the corner of Whitehall and Hunter streets, blew the safe and rifled the office and store. Up to a late hour Monday night officers were without any definite clues concerning the identity of the robbers.

Of the total loss officials of the company estimated that, not more than $9,000 in money was secured, the additional loss being $1,000 in Liberty bonds and approximately $2,000 in furs and other wearing apparel.

The job has every appearance as being that of a professional. Police officials expressed the belief that it was committed by the same gang who burglarized the Chamberlin-Johnson-Dubose company's store about ten months since.

They consider it entirely likely that the robbery took place sometime early Monday morning. Employees of the Keely company were at work in the store until a late hour Sunday afternoon. Thursday Hatcher, photographer with a studio window opening on the roof by which the cracksmen made their entrance, did not leave his place until after 11 o'clock.

The robbery was not discovered until between 7:30 and 8 o'clock Monday morning when the Keely office force reported for work to find the office a mass of debris, safe blown, a vault forced and all the money, most of the securities and some handbags full that were missing for late Saturday night missing.

In return the burglars had left a hammer, a chisel and a pair of cotton gloves. Some jewelry, the valuable property of members of the firm, was also taken, but by some strange oversight, a diamond collar and two diamond studded bracelets.

AUTHORITIES DENY THAT CLARA SMITH
IS IN CHIHUAHUA

El Paso, Texas, December 20.—J. L. Smith, father of Clara Smith, wanted in Ardmore, Okla., in connection with the kidnaping of the son of Jake L. Hamon, said this afternoon that he was assured that his daughter was safe in Mexico with his son, James, whom he believed they were in Chihuahua City.

Neither immigration authorities, police, nor the sheriff's office here have any information to indicate that Clara Smith was in Chihuahua, as intimated in a newspaper interview published today.

"If Miss Smith was found in Chihuahua City, the first thing I'd do is to get the American Consul there, who would have done, what would have been to wire, and I have heard nothing from him," said Oscar Harper, American vice consul, in Juarez to-day.

Fort Worth, Texas, December 20.—W. P. McLean, Jr., member of a law firm with which relatives of Clara Smith has been identified, said today that the young woman will surrender within a week or ten days, but that the place of surrender has not been arranged. He said she is not in Chihuahua, but added she was in Mexico. A speedy trial will be demanded, he said.

Arden, Okla., December 20.—Clara Barton Smith, for whom a search has been conducted since November 23, on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Jake L. Hamon, republican national committeeman, will be permitted to return to Ardmore of her own volition and stand trial for the crime, it was stated today by Russell B. Brown, county attorney.

COAL ASSOCIATION OFFICES SEARCHED

Senate Committee Directs
Raid in Probe of Alleged Profiteering.

Washington, December 20.—Records and correspondence of the National Coal association obtained during an examination of its offices here Saturday and Sunday, by senate agents, will be produced tomorrow at a hearing before the senate committee on reconstruction. It is the second round today for Senator Calder, republican of New York, chairman of the committee. J. D. A. Morrow, vice president of the association, will also be called as a witness.

The committee took the unusual step of ordering a search made of the association records after presenting a partial report to the senate. It has been decided to probe into the distribution system had marked the conduct of the coal industry during the war, and recommend the enactment of legislation for federal control.

"Representatives of the committee went to the association offices Saturday," Senator Calder stated today, "and produced for Mr. Morrow the subpoena authorizing an examination of the records and the production before the committee of such of them as seemed desirable."

Mr. Morrow said that the association had always held its records open for the assistance of the investigating committee, and that no objection to the search had been considered.

G. O. P. CONTESTANTS
ASLEEP AT SWITCH

Republicans in First and
Fifth Georgia Districts
Disregarded Law.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOWAY. Washington, December 20.—(Special)—There will be no contests in the first and fifth districts in Georgia, as was announced by the republican candidates immediately following the November election. The federal investigation that a contestant for a seat in congress must file a statement with a copy of his intentions to contest, and specifications within 30 days of the official proclamation of the election, was to be filed by the authorized officer, read by the governor proclaims the result of the canvassing boards and this proclamation of Governor Dorsey was done November 17. Neither Congressman Overstreet, nor Congressman Upshaw has been served, and as the time limit has expired the proposed contestants have either abandoned their original purposes, or have slept over their rights.

There are two contests from Georgia, however, in which contestants have complied with the law. One is in the seventh against Representative Gordon Lee, and the other is in the ninth against Representative Thomas M. Gilmer.

The story of the seventh district contest has been fully covered in these dispatches.

The ninth district contest has been fought by Barnwell of North Georgia, who claims to have been the republican nominee, and who rests his hopes upon a charge that Bell's name appeared on republican ballot.

The contest will have no ground to stand upon for there is no law in Georgia to prohibit democratic candidates from appearing on a republican ballot.

As a matter of fact figures prove, by comparing the primary with the regular election count, that Congressman Bell received more republican votes in the district than majorities obtained in the entire four counties something over eight hundred.

HEFLIN QUESTIONS COTTON ESTIMATE

Alabama Senator Challenges Board of Crop Estimates Figures, Considering Them Excessive.

Washington, December 20.—The estimate of this year's cotton crop by the board of crop estimates at 1,500,000 bales was challenged today by Senator Heflin, democrat, Alabama, who said this was an overestimate of 1,500,000 bales.

"These figures do such violence to the facts," said Heflin, "and are so at variance with the truth as to the amount of cotton produced this year, that I feel it my duty to challenge their correctness, and to give to the senate and bales."

It is a marvelous portrayal of the human body in all its health and beauty, with a true symbol of strength. It presents a figure of striking appearance in its erect carriage, clear skin, and well-organized and developed muscles, and drummaceous, firmly vibrating and keen, alert, fresh, and spirited; with an air of undiminished energy and vigor, with your body up to a normal state of efficiency in all of its parts.

Cold Nature has taken you five her model? Suppose you study yourself in the mirror of the present and compare your looks, youthful and strong, with the general characteristics of this picture of the human body in perfect working order, all parts of which are sound, well-organized and developed, and you will be greatly impressed.

If you fail to say single point of blame, you are not the picture of health. It's imperative, then, that you look to Nature to keep you in the picture of health, vigorous, by bringing your body up to a normal state of efficiency in all of its parts.

WILSON MAY VETO REVIVAL OF WAR FINANCE MEASURE

President Is Said to Have Expressed the Private View That the Bill Would Not Afford Desired Relief.

EMERGENCY TARIFF HAS TROUBLE AHEAD

Embargo on Foreign Competition Is Plan Favored by Some of the Senate Leaders.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOWAY.

Washington, December 20.—(Special.)—There is grave apprehension that President Wilson may veto the resolution re-establishing the War Finance corporation which passed the senate today and is now ready for the president's approval to become a law. He will be urged to do so by Secretary Houston, but he is known to have expressed the private opinion within the week that he did not believe this move would affect the farm relief for which it was urged.

If Mr. Wilson should approve the measure, however, it is a matter of veracity that the secretary of the treasury, whose opposition to it is pronounced, will extend the credits proposed, he having informed the committee that he would enforce the spirit of the law if enacted by congress.

His authority under the law is discretionary, but his word is on record.

There appears a general lack of understanding as to what the re-establishment of the War Finance corporation is proposed to accomplish.

Discretionary Power.

The law creating the same today (with the president's approval) gives the corporation, of which the secretary of the treasury is ex-officio chairman, discretionary powers regarding the granting of government loans. Should the corporation be restored and money obtained for its activities it would be bound under the law to satisfy itself that loans made would be repaid, and that the government would not suffer.

It went out of business and returned $386,000,000 to the treasury because, in the opinion of the treasury authorities, further loans could not be safely extended. If it is restored the first problem will be to get capital. This can be done by an appropriation or by issuing bonds.

The fact is, in the sincere desire to carry relief to the producer who is suffering most by post-war deflation, the members of congress from the south and west have combined, without regard to party lines, and have been willing to try anything that appeared to promise even a partial cure for acute site.

Ability to Function.

Hence this act re-establishing a war emergency government auxiliary. It is doubtful, in all frankness, if the finance corporation, if re-established by executive approval, will even beneficially function.

Its passage has been the result of a desire to please rural constituents more than a sincere belief on the part of the members that it can be of any tangible benefit.

The proposed emergency tariff bill, also in the interest of producers, is meeting with a mountain of troubles. In the Fordney emergency bill no prohibitory duty is imposed upon manufactured products, and thousands of schedules are left untouched to be protected in the final tariff bill that will be enacted some time in the extra session to be called by President Harding. As soon as the bill is passed, there will be a demand for protection by other interests. There will be an insistence upon higher duties to meet the demands of the button concerns and the pearl button industry which grew up during the war.

All Want Relief.

It is taken for granted that the manufacturers will be heard upon the senate finance committee and ask for at least a temporary relief from foreign competition. In addition, upon re-establishing the War Finance corporation there will be such a flood tide of demands as to embarrass the working of temporary relief. The express desire is that there will be no piecemeal revision such as is proposed by the ways and means.

The only relief that can come as a temporary measure, senate leaders say, is the establishment of an embargo on foreign competition.

The only relief that can come as a temporary measure, senate leaders say, is the establishment of an embargo on foreign competition.

It is the opinion of the members of congress from the south and west that there will be such a flood tide of demands as to embarrass the working of temporary relief.

The express desire is that there will be no piecemeal revision such as is proposed by the ways and means.

Through the fluctuation of the furniture market in the past three years there have been many legitimate opportunities afforded to re-mark Furniture already in your stock to the higher prices announced from time to time by the factories.

The Chamberlin-Johnson-Dubose Company has never taken advantage of such opportunities; we have never re-marked our furniture except to REDUCE THE PRICE.

So the reductions announced on this page are REALLY AUTHENTIC REDUCTIONS FROM THE ORIGINAL PRICES, NOT THE HIGH PEAK MARKET PRICE OF FURNITURE and represent unusual opportunities for saving. There will be no further reductions after Christmas, except in conformity with MARKET REDUCTIONS and on badly broken lines.

WORKERS TO GET ENTIRE PROFITS

North Carolina Concern Settles Wage Dispute by Turning Over Entire Plant to Employees.

Newbern, N. C., December 20.—Effective today and to continue for an indefinite period, the employees of the Newbern Iron Works and Supply company, one of the largest plants of its kind in eastern North Carolina, are to receive all profits made by the concern above cost of operation, in accordance with a agreement reached Saturday between the workers and the management.

At a meeting Saturday between workers and officials of the company to discuss a disagreement over a 20 per cent reduction in wages, a suggestion by one of the employees that the workers be permitted to operate the plant and distribute the profits among themselves was adopted by the company.

WORKERS DEMAND RIGHT TO OPERATE ALL IDLE PLANTS

Philadelphia, December 20.—W. J. Kelly, New York, national secretary-treasurer of the Amalgamated Workers of America, said today that members of the organization, which has just concluded a convention here, have decided to make a demand upon owners of plants and idle to turn them over to the workers to operate as a demonstration that such action is necessary.

"If the owners of the plants will not give the workers the right to operate the plants will," Mr. Kelly said. "There are too many of the just and worthy men of the country due to the natural business depression following the war and the workers are employers. In other words, the owners are on the side against the workers. They simply refuse to give them a chance to work. The plants should not be kept open."

Mr. Kelly said the convention adopted a resolution instructing districts to seek the union to use all means at their disposal to "enforce" the government to give recognition to the present government in Russia.

BAN ON CONCERT SPURS RESPONSE

hopeless odds to get something out of their existence.

Horrid Card.

Mr. Howard's card reads:

"Atlanta, December 20, 1920. I am replying to Mr. Manger's card printed in the morning, because he is implying the intention of the Howard theater management in accepting the request of the Associated Charities to allow the use of the theater for a concert Sunday afternoon. He has no right to advertise and a private business to exploit." I believe the people of Atlanta are fully aware of the good cause of the Associated Charities, that they cannot be moved to support the latter without sending more money to the former, at least to the point upon which the Associated Charities must depend for support.

"This is no time to weaken the restraints and enfeeble the inspirations of religion. At a time when the world is so divided, when the Sabbath is a day of amusement, it is surely not best to turn any Sabbath of the Sabbath to agitating this matter. The Sabbath is aggravated this instant. The Sabbath is corrupted with pleasure-loving and God-forgetting crowds.

"There is not enough of this sort of thing in the world to satisfy the pouring tide of folly into Sunday."

"That some to hold the Sabbath will hardly be denied; for this is not their first attempt. But even they should see that the Sabbath is a day of rest, and when the only Sabbath we can have is the Christian Sabbath, this is the Sabbath.

"In the article published Monday in the Atlanta Constitution about the closing of the Howard theater for an orchestra concert for the benefit of charity by order of Chief of Police Beavers, the Constitution had no interest in the Christian Sabbath.

Wilmer, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal church, had made any personal criticism of the chief.

The article distinctly quoted Dr. Wilmer as agreeing with the chief in view of the plan proposed by the Associated Charities.

Wilmer was the worthy object in view, and the plan proposed thousands of dollars would have been raised from people who were not willing to do this, however, to assist other similar instances. No objection, so far as I know, was made to any of these.

Mr. Manger, a member of the Associated Charities, who is a friend of mine, I admire his great generosity to all worthy charities, many of which are unknown to the public. But the religious and the Sabbath evidently differ. Christ broke the Sabbath laws of the Jews on more than one occasion for humanitarian purposes, and I would not care as did our Puritan forefathers, to stop up bee hives to keep bees from working on Sunday.

Dr. Wilmer, Dr. Ashby Jones, Rabbi Marx, Farther Horton, all of different religious denominations, and myself, question stand for the highest civic morality and the proper observance of the Sabbath.

I trust Mr. Manger, who has probably already done so, and those who agree with him, will at once send their check to the Associated Charities to aid in the purposes for which the concert was to have been given.

C. B. HOWARD.

Stand Informed.

Indorsement of the stand taken by Chief of Police James L. Beavers in prohibiting the concert at the Howard for the benefit of the Associated Charities was formally given Monday at a meeting of Methodist ministers of Atlanta and the Baptist Ministers' conference.

Each of these meetings assured the chief of their heart-felt support and co-operation.

A similar stand was taken in a lengthy communication signed by Warren A. Candler, senior bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church, south.

The resolution adopted by the Methodist ministers was signed by Rev. S. R. Belk, S. E. Wasson and Wallace Rogers. It reads:

"Resolved, first: That the Methodist preachers meeting indorse the high and consistent stand of Chief of Police James L. Beavers on the enforcement of the laws and ordinances of the city, and especially in regard to the Sabbath day.

"Second: That we continue our protest against the performances at the Auditorium for Sunday masses."

Convention Action.

The Baptist convention took the following action:

December 20, 1920.

Petition to the Honorable Mayor and Council of Atlanta:

Greeting: Whereas, It has come to the attention of the Baptist ministers' conference that the city of Atlanta has issued an order to prohibit the performance of movies and other forms of amusement to be put on in the City Auditorium, Sunday afternoon.

Resolved, that the conference of the Baptist ministers' conference, it is the opinion of this body that such movement will tend to create sentiment in favor of the abolition of the Sabbath day. We respectfully petition your honorable body to support the chief of police in his enforcement of the ordinances protecting the sanctity of the Sabbath as expressed in those ordinances.

It is not the sense of this body of ministers that the alliance was going to make it necessary to prohibit the performances of movies and other forms of amusement to be put on in the City Auditorium Sunday afternoon.

Resolved, that the conference of the Baptist ministers' conference, it is the opinion of this body that the chief of police has the right to prohibit the chief of police in his enforcement of the Sabbath day.

Respectfully submitted,

BAPTIST MINISTERS' CONFERENCE,
R. C. COVAN,
W. M. SEAY,
Committee.

Candler's Statement.

In discussing the situation, Blah-

ton Candler said:

"Chief Beavers deserves the most unequalled approval for preventing the Sunday afternoon performance of movies and other forms of amusement."

"The people of Atlanta are so devoted to the Sabbath and indifferent to the good cause of the Associated Charities, that they cannot be moved to support the latter without sending more money to the former, at least to the point upon which the Associated Charities must depend for support."

"The only moving picture show which some proposed to hold on Sunday is not better than that which Chief Beavers stopped. It is an effort to hold a show on Christian Sabbath, and for it substitute a day of mere amusement—the cheapest sort of amusement."

"This is no time to weaken the restraints and enfeeble the inspirations of religion. At a time when the world is so divided, when the Sabbath is a day of amusement, it is surely not best to turn any Sabbath of the Sabbath to agitating this matter. HARDING'S CABINET BEING CONSIDEREDChristmas Spirit Pervades Hosts Of Busy Shoppers

Premiership Apparently Will Fall to Either Root or Hughes—Southern G. O. P. Leaders Clamoring for Recognition.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOWAY.

Washington, December 20.—Republican leaders who are in daily touch with the unofficial white house at Marion, say today that Senator Harding, having definitely decided upon an international policy, which is nothing short of a league of nations, has turned his attention directly to the framing of a cabinet, his desire being to make it as strong as American intelligence and experience within his party will admit. There is no doubt that the Harding cabinet was an unusually able one, the president-elect having no desire apparently to be the single towering intellect of the official family.

That the premiership will go to New York is little doubted. It will either be Root or Hughes.

The middle west is making a determined drive for the treasury, and George M. Reynolds, who recently resigned from the Continental and Commercial Bank of Chicago, is favorably mentioned. Brigadier General Charles G. Dawes, of Chicago, is also strongly urged.

Harry M. Daugherty, of Ohio, will in all probability be attorney general, and there are also indications that Will H. Hays, chairman of the republican national committee, may receive the offer of the postoffice portfolio. It is understood that Mr. Hays' friends have had earnest conferences with Senator Harding on this subject, and these efforts have been aided by the desire on the part of some Indiana republicans desirous of removing Mr. Hays from his sphere of immediate influence in Indiana politics.

Southern Leaders Clamoring. Southern republicans, too, are clamoring for recognition. Among the names mentioned are those of Newell Sanders, of Tennessee; John C. Morehead, of North Carolina, and A. T. Hert, of Kentucky, whose friends would have him made secretary of the interior.

Marion Butler, of North Carolina, wants to be secretary of agriculture, but has no ghost of a show.

As to the interior, Herbert Hoover stands first and Henry Wallace, of Des Moines, has been tentatively agreed upon for agriculture, although there is such a strong protest from packers and millers that the latter may be changed.

John W. Weeks, of Massachusetts, is encountering all kinds of opposition from his own state for any kind of a cabinet berth, although it is known the president-elect wants him in his official family.

Senator Harding, early in his administration, will be confronted with a number of important decisions, including Chief Justice White. Former President Taft will get that berth. The others retiring will be Justice Day and Holmes.

It is almost certain that Senator Sutherland, of Utah, will get one of the places, and if Root is made premier of the cabinet, Hughes will go pack on the bench.

Sheshuan, in Morocco, which Spanish troops recently surrounded, is one of the few cities left in the world where streets have not been trodden by a white man. It is the holy city of the Moors, and is jealously guarded that no European soldier ever has been able to enter it.

ROCKEFELLER SUED BY U. S. FOR TAXES

Multi-Millionaire Files Counter Suit, Seeking Refund on Part of Income Tax Paid.

New York, December 20.—The government today brought suit against John D. Rockefeller for $292,675, charging that his income tax report was "incorrect, misleading and false."

The complaint alleged that in his return filed on March 28, 1916, Mr. Rockefeller "failed to include in it all parts of his income 50,104 shares of Illinois Pine Line company, and 61,176 shares of the Prairie Pipe Line company.

Mr. Rockefeller is in the south, but his representatives here tonight issued a statement declaring that the pipe line company shares mentioned were acquired in 1915 as stock dividends, which, under a rule of the United States supreme court, they contend, are untaxable.

The shares were included in the 1917 return under protest, the statement said, when the treasury department changed its ruling to make stock dividends taxable. A claim for reimbursement was filed by Mr. Rockefeller after the supreme court decision, but this was disallowed, and he now plans to sue to recover the amount paid.

The additional amount sought in the suit filed today, the statement added, Mr. Rockefeller believes, is not legal taxation and declines to pay pending a decision of the courts.

STIMULUS NEEDED IN XMAS OPPORTUNITIES

themselves, their frail mother and three younger children. The mother is not able to work, but will not let herself be classed as an invalid, just because the little work she is able to wring from her meager strength is a big aid when conditions are as hard as are those in this home.

She gets up in the morning, helps Lucy get the breakfast, sees that the younger children get off to school, and when the boys have gone to work, she cleans the dishes and cleans the house. In the afternoon, when the tots are home from school, she runs a ready meal for them; at night, when Lucy and John return from their day's work, she has supper prepared for them. She has no time to rest, but she does rest that a mother deserves when her suffering body has almost spent its strength.

Five dollars a week, added to the wages of John and Lucy, will mean more happiness in this family; $240 a year will assure them added help, which will make Christmas last 365 days of 1921.

Here are the others:

Opportunity No. 1. Four little children, all under 9, and an invalid sister require all of this mother's time. The father died of tuberculosis two years ago, leaving a fear of the disease and a financial burden on the mother's shoulders. She now has no income, and were it not for the help of a friend whom the Associated Charities has found for her she would have no shelter. She is struggling alone, trying to keep the two oldest children in school.

Five dollars a week during the coming year will relieve her mind from financial strain and enable her to care for her sister and little children. Total, $100.

Opportunity No. 2. It's not such a bad world, thinks this fair-faced Jimmie, aged 12. A fairy godfather will surely help him out, for he wants to go to college. His parents, now dead, are mother and baby sister who need so many things and he feels he must work to help buy the necessities. A pension of $3 a week will help give Jimmie the education he wants. Needed, $144.

Opportunity No. 3. A dear old lady and her aged brother live in a tumbledown house which is home to ten other sister, who is 18 years old, seven who find a ready sale, but with all her sewing she cannot earn enough to make her feeble brother comfortable.

A gift of $5 a week will give them the food and many little things they need and will relieve the sister from financial anxiety. Total, $240.

Opportunity No. 4. It isn't easy to come home after a day in the factory, go to her mother's for the five children, cook the children's supper and wash their clothing for school next day, besides working outside that will be immaculately clean. Mrs. M. has been doing this without complaint, for she is ambitious for her youngsters, but the strain is telling her. Recently friends in the Associated Charities have agreed to supplement her meager wage with $1.25 a week.

Another $5 a week will help feed and clothe the five little ones. Total, $240.

Opportunity No. 5. "Six months before she can work again," says the doctor who is treating her.

Six months is a long time when a woman is dependent on her own earnings. All of her teeth abscessed, swollen ankles and almost stone deaf—but she is cheerful and is improving in many ways. To speed her recovery a diet of milk and eggs will be necessary and the visits of the renting agent must be paid. Four dollars and seventy-five cents a week will make her comfortable and enable her to regain her lost strength. Total, $230.

Opportunity No. 6.

A mother who is mentally unbalanced, irresponsible and overbearing—is for this reason unable to make a home for her 12-year-old kiddie. On the other hand, kiddie is bright and wants chance to go to school.

Three dollars and seventy-five cents a week will enable Associated Charities to place her in a good school where she can start her education while the mother is receiving medical treatment. Needed, $180.

Opportunity No. 7.

Thirteen-year-old Jessie's father works his hardest every day. But a wife who has had pellagra for two years, and four little girls of two to ten years old, are a load more than his maximum earnings.

He comes home from school and cleans the house. She was doing the same, but when our visitor found some time to do it for her, the doctors now advise a nourishing diet for mother, and all four children in order to prevent tuberculosis.

Three dollars and seventy-five cents a week extra will make this possible. Total for the year, $180.

Opportunity No. 8.

Three husky boys, 13-18, an invalid father and aged grandmother or keep this mother at work or keep her busy every day. If only she can keep things going a few years, she says, her boys will have their hard work closely calculated for her.

She gets up in the morning, helps Lucy get the breakfast, sees that the younger children get off to school, and when the boys have gone to work, she cleans the dishes and cleans the house. In the afternoon, when the tots are home from school, she runs a ready meal for them; at night, when Lucy and John return from their day's work, she has supper prepared for them. She has no time to rest, but she does rest that a mother deserves when her suffering body has almost spent its strength.

Five dollars a week, added to the wages of John and Lucy, will mean more happiness in this family; $240 a year will assure them added help, which will make Christmas last 365 days of 1921.

Here are the others:

Opportunity No. 9. Four little children, all under 9, and an invalid sister require all of this mother's time. The father died of tuberculosis two years ago, leaving a fear of the disease and a financial burden on the mother's shoulders. She now has no income, and were it not for the help of a friend whom the Associated Charities has found for her she would have no shelter. She is struggling alone, trying to keep the two oldest children in school.

Five dollars a week during the coming year will relieve her mind from financial strain and enable her to care for her sister and little children. Total, $100.

Opportunity No. 10.

Being the oldest of five has advantages and disadvantages. The oldest, John, aged 18, falls the entire support of the family. The frail mother remains at home getting the younger children off to school, but always has the simple supper ready for John and Lucy when they get home from work.

Even with the combined wages of these two, however, there is not enough to cover all the expenses, and the two young people are getting discouraged.

Five dollars a week as a Christmas present will supplement their meager wage and make them very happy. "Who'll help?" Total for the year, $240.

Total required for all opportunities, $2,800.

Contributors will please make all gifts direct to the Associated Charities.

Tech Coaches in Demand

BY FUZZY WOODRUFF

Dixie After Jump Shift

Football, especially in the south, in the next few years, is going to be a striking thing for spectators to watch and it will be due to Coach Alexander of Tech. This isn't due to fame, eminence, and Alexander's ability. Enough of that kind of literature has been written during the past few weeks to satisfy the most ardent fan. And even the most ardent young Tornado supporters has signed for some other kind of reading.

But here is a football fact. Alexander has a secret that he can't teach the jump shift and that he could teach it perhaps better than its inventor, John W. Heisman. Heisman, it is asserted, is to blame for the fact that the jump was a child of Heisman's and would answer to the commands of no other parent.

Then along comes a new provision that is all wrong. Wherefore a lot of colleges are seeking football coaches who are able to teach the jump shift and that they can look for one with whom they can associate. And the Tech team smiled.

Then comes the mystery of the play can be explained and can be taught. It won't be long before the play's affection will be won over the whole school and when the team meets and both use the jump shift, what a thrill the spectators will have. The jump is spectacular enough with one team.

With both teams employing it, football enthusiasts are going to begin making observations for the state now. In fact, it is evident that unto a man who bets that a team will not score when that day comes,

Stormy Petrels,

Stormy Petrels'

There is nothing modest about the schedule announced by Oglethorpe University and there shouldn't be.

Oglethorpe is out to make a name for itself in southern football and Dr. Thornehill Jacobs, who runs football and everything else out on the Camp Gordon line, believes that the play has been found to be practically unstoppable by a team.

The reason why this college is looking for jump shift mentors is that the play has been found to be the practical unstoppable by a team. The jump is the strength of the team using it. But that isn't all. The shift must be studied to beat the boys is to meet the man who beats the team.

Then along comes a new provision that is all wrong. Wherefore a lot of colleges are seeking football coaches who are able to teach the jump shift and that they can look for one with whom they can associate. And the Tech team smiled.

Then comes the mystery of the play can be explained and can be taught. It won't be long before the play's affection will be won over the whole school and when the team meets and both use the jump shift, what a thrill the spectators will have. The jump is spectacular enough with one team.

With both teams employing it, football enthusiasts are going to begin making observations for the state now. In fact, it is evident that unto a man who bets that a team will not score when that day comes,

It distinctly recalls the last game between Georgia and Tech. Alex Cunningham, then Georgia coach, and a good football man as the south had ever produced up to that time, had scored Tech's first touchdown with one touch down and Cunningham was confident that he knew as much about the play as anyone else.

He diagrammed the play, taught it to his men and constructed a defense that was bound to stop it. Tech, Georgia, and the world, except what Tech man would do. The play called for your being and the charge of the mauler, which was the play was executed in a manner different from the play he had studied as baseball is from cricket.

On one occasion in that battle Big Tom Thrash ran afoul of Big Carpenter. There was a mighty jumping about. When Tom was to gain a little something.

New York, December 20.—An opening decline in the cotton market was followed by rallies, but the market closed lower, failing to fully recover its losses and prices weekend again in the late trading. January sold up from 4.90 to 15.17 and closed at 14.93, with the general list at 17, with a net decline of 17 to 16.25 points.

The market opened barely steady at a net decline of 17 to 27 points, but responded to a small market suspension in London had an unsetting influence, and Liverpool was a considerable seller here at the opening, which was better than due on the part of the English market. There was also some southern selling, but it was comparatively light for a Monday morning, and early afternoon saw the market rapidly absorbed around 14.80 for March and 15.00 for May. There was some investment buying of the late months, but the market was still at the same level for July, and the rally during the middle of the day was promoted by the renewed covering of January shorts. This position sold a point above Saturday's closing figures, while March rallied to 15.08 and May to 15.15, but there was no demand for the demand, and as soon as near-term covering was disposed prices turned easier. Houses with southern and Wall street connections were sellers in the late trading, and the market closed 15.08, or 25 points net lower. The census report, showing 10,378,265 bales ginned prior to December 13, was not of much importance, having any special influence, but the forenoon rally was probably encouraged by a better feeling over the good trade and reports that most of New York's cotton would now be willing to accept the reduced wage rate. Exports today 32,239, marking 2,206,675 so far this season. Port receipts 29,516. United States port 1,395,108.

Why Thousands of Farmers and Business Men of Georgia Need Insurance Protection Immediately.

In view of the immense shrinkage in the value of cotton, manufactured goods and practically all stocks of supplies, etc., it is not important for you to consider at once what your apparent loss is, and then apply at once for an insurance policy to cover the amount so that in case you should die within the next few months, before values recover, the burden will not fall upon your wife and children or your business? It will certainly relieve your mind wonderfully after you have taken out such a policy and paid the nominal premium, to know that you are covered while you and the rest of us are working out plans to steady the boat by holding tight until the depression passes by.

cable that there was little doing in cotton markets and that the market was quiet throughout the session. Considering all the facts that were before us during this period we feel that the market will pass through a period of activity and will stabilize itself in time to time. The tendency now will be to see cotton go up in anticipation of a larger demand and to come down again at not far from 28 to 32 points. At the lowest of the day the market showed declines of 28 to 35 points. January closed at 15.12 and February at 15.05.

New York, December 20.—(Special).—The opening of the session was more or less in evidence throughout the session, although after the first broad market rally came about because of rather liberal realizing by shorts.
